Acknowledgments

We extend our deepest appreciation and gratitude to those who helped make this book possible. We can truly see how God used the talents of the many friends who helped us with the typing, proofreading, praying, setup, artwork, design, and timely words of encouragement. We also thank God for bringing us together with Bruce Malone, who shared our vision for this book. May God bless each of you for your selfless service, and may He truly be honored through this book!

About this Book

The primary purpose of this book is to help people understand what makes Christianity so trustworthy. Many books are available on the scientific evidence for creation, but most are difficult to share due to the technical nature of the subject matter. This book is written to be enjoyed as a daily devotional, but can also serve as an easy-to-read resource on the physical evidence that our Creator exists.

God's desire is that the knowledge of what He has done through both the cross and creation is for everyone. We must not keep this knowledge to ourselves. The evidence that He is our Creator is so overwhelming and encouraging that it desperately needs to be shared in the world today. A Closer Look at the Evidence is designed to be an affordable resource to both reinforce our individual faith and facilitate sharing the reasons for this faith. Consider praying about how God could use you to utilize the truths found within these pages.

Each page summarizes interesting facts about God and/or creation. The reader is encouraged to find more extensive and detailed information through the sources listed at the bottom of each page. Occasionally the source is quoted directly, but more often the material is summarized.

Because this book contains much scientific evidence supporting the reality of creation, it is possible that some of the more speculative conclusions could change over time. It is not the intent of the authors or publisher to distort or mislead in any way. Therefore, we will correct any confirmed technical errors in subsequent printings. If you find any technical errors, please contact the publisher at SearchfortheTruth.net.

About the Authors

The book's authors, Richard and Tina Kleiss, have been public school science teachers for many years. Richard holds a B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering and worked as an engineer for 13 years before returning to school to earn a teaching degree in chemistry, physics, and mathematics. He taught both junior and senior high school science and math courses for 15 years. Tina has a B.S. and M.A. degree in education. She has taught elementary and junior high science for over 32 years.

As science teachers, the Kleisses had a particular interest in the question of origins. Their research led them to the discovery that the scientific evidence overwhelmingly supports creation. After witnessing evolution being presented as a fact in the media and textbooks while the evidence for creation was being systematically excluded, the authors decided to continue their study, compile their findings, and write A Closer Look at the Evidence as a resource for others. For over a decade the Kleisses have taught classes and given seminars on creation/evolution to audiences ranging from kindergarten to adult. The authors have currently retired from public education in order to devote full time to bringing seminars on the evidence for creation to both students and adults.

The authors' desire is not that this book be used for the purpose of ridiculing the beliefs of evolutionists, but that it would strengthen our faith in the Word of God. Their hope is that this book would be a useful tool for parents who need to find answers to their children's questions, students who want to investigate the credibility of Christianity, and teachers who want to study the problems with evolution. Rich and Tina reside in Gladwin, Michigan.

About the Editor/Publisher

Bruce Malone worked as a Research Leader for the Dow Chemical Co. for 27 years specializing in new product developments. Mr. Malone has a B.S. in Chemical Engineering and holds 18 patents on various aspects of foam extrusion and polymer technology. However, his passion is writing and teaching about the evidence for creation. Bruce is interested in every aspect of science and has been studying, lecturing, and writing on the harmony of the evidence for creation with science for almost 20 years. Bruce lives in Midland, Michigan with his wife Robin.

In 2008 Bruce took early retirement from Dow Chemical in order to serve as full time executive director of Search for the Truth Ministries. Search for the Truth is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization started to distribute interesting and technically accurate books on creation to students, teachers, prisoners, pastors, and missionaries. Naturalistic evolutionary presuppositions have a lock upon our education system, museum system, and media but the courts have yet to prevent the free distribution of technically accurate and fascinating books on the evidence for creation. Our goal is to circumvent the censorship which is happening within our schools by distributing over a million books on the evidence for creation over the next ten years. A Closer Look at the Evidence is one of these books.

Foreword

It is critically important that each of us is able to explain why we believe that Jesus Christ is our Creator and Savior. Merely saying that we believe is not an adequate answer in today's world of sophisticated technology and skepticism.

Since Darwin published On the Origin of the Species in 1859, evolutionists have spent millions of hours researching reasons to reject God as Creator. Over the same period, many Christians have rested on "blind faith." This trend is changing, thanks to the work of organizations such as the Institute for Creation Research, Answers in Genesis, Creation Moments, the Center for Scientific Creation, the Creation Research Society, and many others. These organizations are headed by men and women committed to helping Christians obey God's command in 1 Peter 3:15, "...be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear..." KJV The dedication and diligence of these Christians to further scientific research and education is tremendous. They merit our prayers, encouragement, and financial support.

This book barely scratches the surface of the evidence which reveals the truth and authority of the Bible. It is built upon the work of others and will hopefully serve as a vehicle for whetting your appetite as you prepare to give a ready answer for why you believe in the Creator. As you familiarize yourself with the evidence in this book, we encourage you to study and further research these evidences on your own. God challenges us to examine and discern the Scriptures (Acts 17:11, 1 Thessalonians 5:21), and we will find that they are true. We believe you will find that the evidence supports a clear and straightforward understanding of God's Word. Taking time to study this evidence will bless you and will greatly encourage your faith that the Lord God is real and exactly who He says He is in the Bible. We have been working on this project of love for many years, and it has truly changed our lives. Our discoveries have given us a passion to serve God and commit ourselves to the obedience of His Word! We hope our efforts will be a blessing to you.

In Christian love,
Rich and Tina Kleiss

Introduction

There is a cultural war raging in Western Civilization and the outcome of this war is far from certain. There are many hotly contested battlefronts, but at the root of each battle is man's desire to replace God with himself. Self-centeredness and mankind's desire to escape accountability to the Creator is apparent everywhere. Whenever clear biblical teaching on the evidence for creation is presented, it is opposed with passion. The intensity of the opposition to the biblical viewpoint is an indication of mankind's lack of humility and hatred for moral accountability. It is also an indication of the importance of this issue.

Evolution lays the groundwork for rejecting any absolute standard of behavior, because it undermines the Bible as a source of authority. The Bible makes it quite clear that God created everything, life only reproduces after its own kind, and that He sent a global flood as judgment for man's sin and rebellion. If these facts are denied, then people will draw the wrong conclusions about their origin. Why, then, should they trust anything else the Bible has to say?

There are many wonderful, well-documented, and highly technical books on the scientific evidence supporting biblical creation. However, the battle will not be won in academic towers but in our homes, schools, and neighborhood living rooms. This compilation of evidence for the truth of the Bible can have a tremendous impact. Why? Because this book shares "the rest of the story" and exposes the fallacy behind many of the ideas and beliefs we have been taught to blindly accept. This volume is filled with awe-inspiring examples of God's handiwork, making it almost impossible to resist turning the page to find out what comes next.

There are only two possible alternatives for the origin of mankind—creation or evolution. Many people like to believe that God used evolution to "create" us. However, this just sidesteps the real issue by assuming that evolution has happened. Such a false compromise leads people away from, not toward, the personal God described in the Bible. To understand whether the scientific evidence from the observation of the world around us fits best into the evolution or creation model for our origin, the reader must understand the very different (and mutually exclusive) models for our origin. Evolution masquerades as science by using scientific terminology and teaching that small observable changes in organisms prove that one type of creature has turned into a completely different type. In reality, evolution is based on a religious concept which has been summarized as follows by Philip Johnson in his book The Right Questions:

“In the beginning was no intelligence or purpose; there were only particles and impersonal laws of physics. These two things plus chance did all the creating. Without them nothing was made that has been made. The particles combined to become complex living stuff through a process called evolution. Primitive humans, not having science to tell them what had happened, dreamed up a creator they called God.”

This religious belief is taught as a fact within public school textbooks throughout the world. We need to prepare our children if they are going to resist the one-sided indoctrination which they are receiving in schools, museums, movies, and science programs. The biblical explanation for life is radically different:

In the beginning was God. God created all space, matter, and time in a brief creation period not so long ago. He created distinctly different kinds of creatures to reproduce after their own kind and placed mankind on a planet designed for him. The entire universe was created for man’s pleasure in order to reveal God’s glory, majesty, and character.

Yet mankind rebelled and rejected God. In response God did not destroy man, but all of creation started a downward spiral of disorder and death (referred to as “the Fall”). Later, in response to the almost total depravity of mankind, a worldwide flood was sent to wipe out virtually all life on the planet. The effects of this judgment provide undeniable evidence of the hatred a holy God has toward sin and rebellion. This flood is what created the worldwide fossil record.

In an incredible display of mercy, God forewarned the entire world as to what was coming. Yet only one family believed God and was saved on a giant floating vessel. A few generations after the flood ended, mankind was dispersed around the world as evidenced by the explosive growth of highly advanced civilizations approximately 5,000 years ago. God did not leave mankind without hope for reconciliation with Himself. He inspired the Bible as an authoritative record of both physical and spiritual reality. The Creator God became man and took upon Himself the penalty which we deserve for our rebellion. He did this so that we may be reconciled with Him.

From the first rebellion of mankind in the Garden of Eden (when man tried to cover his sin with a fig leaf) to the crucifixion of Jesus on the cross (when mankind tried to wash his hands of the responsibility for his actions), God has been reaching out to mankind. It is only by placing our faith in what Jesus has already done that we may return to fellowship with the Creator of the universe. We can never be “good” enough to earn our way to heaven.

These are the two competing viewpoints for understanding our universe. Scientific exploration should not start by eliminating consideration of the biblical model. There are innumerable scientific observations which agree perfectly with a straightforward understanding of the Bible’s model. Science should consider all of the data to determine which model is best supported by the evidence. Was there a worldwide flood or not? Do random changes add useful information to an organism? Can chemicals come alive? Does the fossil record show the transformation from one form of life into another? Do the majority of dating methods reveal a young or an old earth? The answers to these questions are found through scientific investigation, not religious discussion.

This book is about the evidence. Each reader must determine for him/herself which concept of our origin is best supported by the evidence. Share this book with every person you know, especially young people. Many of them are looking for meaning and purpose in life. The evidence presented here, tied to God’s Word, will be “a lamp unto their feet and a light unto their path” through this spiritually dark and confusing world.

To Jesus be the glory,

Which Came First, the Chicken or the Egg?

Which came first, the chicken or the egg?
This question we must pose.
The answer rests upon God's Word
And what the evidence shows.

Evolution says it was the egg;
Pure chance brought us the bird.
The Bible says God made the bird
In Genesis One of His Word.

These views we know can't both be true,
No matter what men say.
So we must lay out all the facts,
And let them point the way.

If we look closely at what's found
In fossils, stars, and cells,
They point out there's a Master Mind;
And He designed them well.

Of course, mankind just laughs at this.
They won't admit it's true.
They know that if there is a God,
Accounts to Him are due.

As Christians, here's where we can't fail
To know God's world and Word.
Our reasons for belief in Him
By no means are absurd.

The Bible says to seek out truth;
Foundations must be strong.
So when men say they have the facts,
We'll know what's right from wrong.

Let's read God's Word, apply our minds,
And seek Him with all our heart.
God said He'd teach us wondrous things
And truth to us impart.

So when we're asked to clarify
That eggs weren't first and why,
We'll know God's Script, point to the facts,
And have a sound reply.

If we can spur man to rethink
His views on evolution,
Perhaps He'll see the facts show God
As the correct solution.

CREATION FOUNDATION

True Christianity, as set forth in the Bible, is a credible faith and not one based on emotions, superstitions, or groundless belief. Christianity is founded on truth that can be tested and is for the thinking person. God does not ask us to check our brains at the church door. Followers of other religions can quote their texts and give glowing testimonies of how their religions make them feel, but their beliefs are based on feelings, rather than historical facts. It is quite possible to be devoted and sincere about a religious belief, while wholeheartedly believing a lie. How can a person know that what they believe is actually true? Although some beliefs can bring comfort, will they ultimately help or harm us if they are false?

Christianity alone is based on verifiable historical truth.

The Bible states in Romans 1:20 that no one has any excuse for disbelief in the one true God, because God clearly makes Himself known to everyone through what He has made (His creation). This can be verified through the study of creation using the tool of science.

God also makes Himself known through His Word, the Bible. He challenges us to examine and test it. Each person is responsible to investigate the Bible's claims of authenticity. Our eternal destiny depends upon it.

BIOLOGY

Although the original world was created perfect and without death, our fallen world requires creatures to adapt to difficult situations in order to survive. Even in the current world full of death and competition, the smallest of creatures exhibit amazing capabilities for survival in harsh environments. The female snowshoe rabbit is one such creature.

During extreme drought or harsh winters, the stress of finding food triggers a chemical process in the pregnant female that stops an embryo's growth. Her body then responds to this condition of physical weakness with a process called resorption. In this process, the mother completely reabsorbs the growing embryo. This mechanism allows the rabbit to survive by replenishing her own strength. She can later become pregnant during more favorable conditions.

The number of chemical and physical changes required for a rabbit to reverse a pregnancy is mind-boggling. There is no scientific evidence which explains how this remarkable resorption process could have evolved. The creativity of God to have provided for the common rabbit in this way is truly amazing!

PROPHECY

The prophet Ezekiel prophesied that the city of Sidon, twenty miles north of Tyre, would have a miserable and bloody future due to its horrible sinfulness. A study of history shows that this prophecy (precise future events foreseen and predicted) came true exactly as predicted.

Throughout the centuries, Sidon has indeed been one of the bloodiest locations in history. Soon after the prophecy was given, the city was captured by the Babylonians. Later, over 40,000 died in a rebellion against the Persians. The Greeks then captured it under Alexander the Great in 330 B.C. It continued to be the scene of many fierce battles during the Crusades and various Turkish wars. Today, this city is part of Lebanon, only twenty miles south of Beirut. This area seems destined to continue its unhappy history (indefinitely), just as the Bible predicted over 2,000 years ago.

As much as one-fourth of the Bible consists of prophetic statements. Every single prediction has come or is in the process of coming true—with 100% accuracy. This is true because the Bible is inspired by the Holy Spirit (who is God). Only God is outside of time and capable of seeing all of time, from the moment of creation until He wraps up history, in advance. This is possible as time is part of the physical universe and God (who created the entire universe) is outside of time. Only the Bible validates itself by predicting the specific future events in advance!

Evidence From
BOTANY

On a hot summer day, one large tree can pump over a thousand gallons—that's four tons—of water from the ground to its leaves. The water is collected from the soil through the roots. But the real work of pumping four tons of water, often 100 feet into the air, occurs at the top of the tree. The water is suctioned toward the treetop by three remarkably efficient mechanisms—capillary flow, osmosis, and vacuum pressure. Osmosis and capillary action act in concert to move the water partway to the top of the tree, but the real driving force is a pressure differential created by the leaves within the vessels of the tree. This pressure differential is a result of water evaporating from the leaves of the tree, creating a suction throughout the vessels. This suction (measured as low as 1/20 of atmospheric pressure) helps to draw water from the roots all the way to the top of the tree. If you were to cut one of these vessels, you could actually hear (using extremely sensitive equipment) a hissing sound as air rushed back into these vessels.

The engineering excellence of this silent pumping system, which efficiently delivers moisture to the very top of trees, is a not-so-silent witness against the idea that chance evolutionary processes (such as mutations) could have developed it.

CHEMISTRY

The existence of life depends upon a substance which chemists call the universal solvent. This magnificent molecule, with its many unique properties, is ordinary water. Unlike almost all other liquids which contract upon changing from liquid to solid, water stops contracting and starts expanding at 4°C. This results in solid water (ice) being less dense (lighter) than liquid water. Thus lakes and rivers freeze from the top down instead of from the bottom up. If lakes froze from the bottom up, life within every lake in a freezing climate would be destroyed.

Water also has a unique ability to conduct electricity at just the right resistance to make the processes of life possible within cells. In addition, its unique surface tension insulates some animals, while its inability to mix with body oils insulates other animals by keeping them dry. Water is only one of the special substances that God created to enhance and enable life.

From the properties of the smallest molecule to the complex interrelated systems of life, the entire universe has every appearance of being designed to work together in perfect harmony. This is one of many ways in which creation provides a vivid testimony to our Creator's attention to the details of life.

BIOLOGY

The Couch's spadefoot toad of the Sonoran Desert is an example of how God takes care of creatures under extreme conditions. This toad lies dormant in the hot desert eleven out of twelve months each year. It has built-in sensors that tell it when a violent desert rainstorm occurs. The toad can detect vibrations of pounding rain miles away. It somehow knows to emerge from the sand when it rains so that the male toads can call for females as soon as pools of water form. Shortly afterwards the egg-laying is completed and the toads return to the sand, safe from the heat of the burning daytime sun. Most of the time the desert pools rapidly dry up, killing the eggs. Only under ideal conditions will some of the eggs hatch—nine days later. The young toads have at most a few weeks to eat enough food to survive before burying themselves in the sand for the next eleven months while awaiting another rainstorm.

Such survival instincts and mechanisms were probably not required before the Fall, when the world was designed as a paradise. In the current world, with its severe climates, such instincts and abilities seem to have been specifically designed for animals such as the spadefoot toad. How could this ability to adjust to such harsh weather conditions have evolved?

Unless all of the abilities, instincts, and timing of the toads' reproductive cycle were in place, the toads could never have survived the first severe season.

ANATOMY

Human hair is actually a complex functioning feature, not just a simple cosmetic addition to our bodies. Not only does hair provide warmth and enhanced appearance, but it has multiple design functions to enhance life. For instance, hair is an integral part of the body's protection system. Eyelashes protect our eyes by triggering them to almost instantly and involuntarily close when dust strikes the lashes. Body hair serves as tiny levers. Each hair is connected to a muscle which squeezes oil from adjacent glands that keep our skin from drying out. Hair even acts as a filter for particulates caught in the nose and ears.

Hair is also “programmed” to grow to specific lengths and thicknesses in various places on the body. Eyelashes, for example, do not grow as long or thick as scalp hair. They grow to a certain length, fall out, and are replaced by new hair. Who planned it this way? Clearly, one can see evidence of design in both the function and placement of even the simple hairs on our bodies.

Evolution does not explain where the complex programming to create even a single hair came from. Human hair is not a leftover skin covering from our “ape ancestry.”

THE FOSSIL RECORD

We are repeatedly told that dinosaurs died out around 60 million years ago. Yet there have been many reports of dinosaur bones which have been dated quite young. Carbon-14 ( $^{14}\text{C}$ ) analysis of dinosaur bones reveals that they can contain measurable amounts of  $^{14}\text{C}$ . This is impossible if the bones are over 60 million years old but makes perfect sense from a biblical perspective. The  $^{14}\text{C}$  concentration for organisms alive before Noah's Flood would have been greatly reduced compared to modern levels, but  $^{14}\text{C}$  should still be present in small amounts. This is exactly what we find and does not indicate a great age but a recent burial by a worldwide flood.

According to the March 1992 ABR Newsletter, Hugh Miller of Columbus, Ohio had four dinosaur bone samples carbon dated at a university laboratory. Each of the bones were "dated" at an age of under 20,000 years. These bones were not identified as dinosaur bones because the labs would not agree to test bones which their evolutionary presumptions tell them could not contain any  $^{14}\text{C}$ . Yet the same level of  $^{14}\text{C}$  found in the bones of a more "recent" creature would be assumed to be correct.

In an even more amazing discovery, both DNA fragments and unfossilized red blood cells have been found within dinosaur bones. Neither of these fragile organic molecules could exist after millions of years. Yet it is quite reasonable to expect to find such fragments to remain if they were buried during Noah's Flood—less than 5,000 years ago.

NOAH TO ABRAHAM: THE TURBULENT YEARS,
 P. 36

Recent dates on dinosaur bones should be no surprise to Christians. In Genesis 1:21 God says he created "great whales" (KJV). Elsewhere this Hebrew word, tannin, is translated "dragon." Job chapters 40 and 41 describe powerful creatures which could only be dinosaurs.

Evidence From PROPHECY

There are over 300 distinct prophecies in the Old Testament that were literally fulfilled by Jesus Christ.

These prophecies, given hundreds of years before Christ was born, were very specific and could not be fulfilled by any other man in history. The prophecies include the time, place, and manner of Christ's birth, including specifics about His ministry and genealogy. Also predicted were details about His miracles, His trial, His death, His resurrection, and the events after His resurrection. The probability of all of these prophecies being fulfilled by any other person is an absolute impossibility.

These predictions concerning the life of Jesus Christ were recorded in the sacred books of the Jewish people—now commonly known as the “Old Testament.” Copies of these ancient documents, identical to the modern texts, were buried hundreds of years before the birth of Christ. They were found sealed in clay jars near the Dead Sea in Israel. These “Dead Sea Scrolls” and other manuscripts recorded specific details about Jesus long before they actually occurred. Only a Creator God who is outside of time could have inspired these hundreds of specific details to be written down prior to their fulfillment.

BIOLOGY

Human engineers did not design the first cooling system. Every living warm-blooded creature has mechanisms for controlling its body temperature. The design of the gazelle's cooling system is among the most ingenious in nature. The gazelle must run at high speed in order to escape predators. This exertion of energy raises the gazelle's body temperature to such an extent that for the gazelle to survive, its brain must be cooled. The solution to this problem is a special cooling system built right into the gazelle's head. Gazelles and similar animals have hundreds of small arteries that pass through a large pool of blood in the nasal passage. Inhaled air cools this nasal blood pool, which in turn cools the blood in the tiny arteries passing through the pool. [In industry, these specifically designed pieces of equipment are called heat exchangers.] After the blood has been cooled, it recombines in a larger blood vessel and circulates into the brain. Without this system for cooling the brain, the gazelle simply could not survive in the current fallen world which requires the gazelle to escape from predatory animals.

It takes a team of engineers using sophisticated calculations to design heat exchangers for use in industrial processes. Since it had to work perfectly from the outset, creation is the only logical explanation for the design and function of the gazelle's far more intricate heat exchange system.

ASTRONOMY

In the writings of virtually all civilized nations going back to Rome, Greece, Egypt, Persia, Assyria, and Babylonia, there exists a description of the major star systems. Mankind has called these 12 star systems the “Constellations of the Zodiac” and has attached mystical meanings and powers to them. It is intriguing that nearly all nations had the same 12 signs, placed in the same order, all representing the same things. Secular archeologists, who deny the dispersion of man from a single source (the tower of Babel), cannot explain how so many nations have the same signs for the constellations which bear no resemblance to the pictures they supposedly represent.

The Bible sheds light on this mystery in several places:

1. In Genesis 1:14-16 God is in the midst of creating the heavens when he says He made the sun, moon, and stars for the purpose of “Signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years.”
2. In Job 38:31-32 God asks Job if he could bring forth the “Mazzaroth” in his season. Mazzaroth is Hebrew for the constellations of the Zodiac. Pleiades, Orion, and Arcturus are specifically listed.
3. In Psalm 147:4 God tells us He not only created the stars, but He numbered the stars and calls them by their names.

Some believe a study of the constellations reveals the gospel through the heavens. Each constellation, from Virgo (meaning “virgin”) to Leo (meaning “he that tears apart”), unfolds the story of Christ. Christ was the God-man who came to die in payment for man’s sins, redeem those who make Him Lord of their lives, and conquer the serpent, Satan.

BIBLICAL ACCURACY

The belief in uniformitarianism (that the past history of our planet can be explained by slow processes over long periods of time) is not a new scientific revelation. Belief in evolution is built upon this foundation of uniformitarianism by denying that there have been major interventions by God in the past. God knew and forewarned mankind of this errant viewpoint thousands of years ago in 2 Peter 3:3.

1. Evolution denies the instantaneous creation of very different forms of life.
2. Evolution ignores that there was ever a curse on man and nature as a result of mankind's rebellion.
3. Evolution suppresses the evidence for the worldwide Flood in spite of enormous geological support testifying to the reality of this event. This global Flood explains the fossil record without the need for evolutionary concepts or time scales and must be denied in order to accept evolution.
4. Evolution undermines Christianity by assuming that death has always been around and is the natural order of things. If this is true, then Christ did not die as a final payment for Adam's (and our) sin because death is normal and not a specific penalty for our rebellion. Adam and Eve simply becomes a fanciful, imaginary story.

Once evolution is accepted as a fact, is it any surprise that Christianity rapidly becomes irrelevant? Is it any surprise that Europe became almost devoid of true Christian faith in the same time frame in which it totally embraced evolutionary theory as fact?

COMMON SENSE

Life shows every possible characteristic of design by an intelligent designer. If you ask any person to define what characteristics would indicate that an object has been made by an intelligent designer (such as form, complexity, independence of parts, integrated components, etc.) life exhibits these same characteristics. In addition to this, all basic types of animal life appear completely developed, not partially developed. There are no examples of half-developed feathers, eyes, skin, arteries, veins, intestines, or any other vital organ.

Actually, if a reptile leg were to evolve into the wing of a bird, it would become a bad leg long before it could become a good wing. How could such a reptile survive an attack from a predator or catch prey while its legs were in the process of evolving? Before it turned into something else, the animal would become extinct. Adherence to the teachings of evolution, masquerading as science, has blinded even highly intelligent people to the truth. The Bible says it best—claiming to be wise, mankind has become foolish.

HISTORY

Jesus Christ is not a mythological character. Evidence of His existence can be verified by many sources.

First, there is the testimony of the New Testament documents. All 27 New Testament books were completed within 60 years of Christ's resurrection. Ten of these books were written by Christ's personal friends. At least thirteen were written by Paul, an eyewitness of Christ's life.

Second, the Jewish Babylonian Talmud and the writings of the famous Jewish historian Josephus bear witness to the historical presence of Christ. Their testimony to Christ's existence is all the more valuable, because the Jews not only rejected Christ, but were extremely hostile toward Him. Many of these writings contain lies and distortions, but the very fact He merits attention supports His historical existence.

Third, ancient nonreligious historical writings also bear record of Christ. For example, Pliny, the governor of Bithynia (around 112 A.D.); the Roman historian Tacitus (115 A.D.); and the popular Roman writer Seutonius (about 120 A.D.) all acknowledged the existence of Christ.

THE WORLDWIDE FLOOD

How could the Ark have survived a year-long water catastrophe without sinking? The study of hydrodynamics (the branch of physics having to do with the motion and action of water) has demonstrated that a giant boxlike vessel the size and shape described in the Bible would be almost unsinkable. Even in a sea of gigantic waves, the Ark could be tilted to almost a 90° angle and would always tend to right itself again. A vessel of this shape also aligns itself with the waves so that it experiences the least amount of pitching. Recent studies indicate the large fins on the front and back of many ancient vessels functioned to keep these vessels pointed into large waves during windy, stormy seas. This design may have started with the original design of Noah's ark, made necessary during the massive storm which it experienced.

In 1604, a Dutchman named Peter Jansz, built two smaller ships with the same proportions as the Ark. These small "arks" could carry one-third more cargo than regular ships without requiring any additional crew and quickly became a popular cargo carrier.

The perfect engineering of the Ark, with the exact characteristics necessary to survive the Flood, points to God as the ultimate Designer. Every detail of the Bible confirms its accuracy and supernatural origin.

BIOLOGY

The ironic life cycle of a toad-eating horsefly was first documented in the Arizona desert by Dr. Thomas Eisner of Cornell University. Eisner noticed this unusual drama at a muddy desert pond that had a large population of spadefoot toads. Upon close inspection of the pond, he noticed that some of the toads were being pulled down into the mud as they hopped across the surface. A little digging revealed that the predator was the horsefly larva. The larva burrows into the soft mud until its head barely sticks out. When an unsuspecting toad wanders by, the larva grabs him with its powerful jaws and pulls him into the mud. The larva injects the toad with poison and drinks the toad's body fluids. Eventually the larva grows into an adult horsefly, but now it must avoid becoming a meal for the toads that have survived the larva attack.

Even in the desert where food is scarce, God has designed an incredible circular food chain that works in perfect balance. Although mutually beneficial relationships such as this may not have been required before mankind rebelled, God has provided mechanisms to insure the survival of animals within His creation.

GEOLOGY

Buried in an eroded hillside at Yellowstone National Park are petrified tree trunks protruding through multiple layers of earth. For many years a geological marker at this site (Specimen Ridge) stated that the trees were buried and petrified in place. The parallel layers were interpreted as successive forests buried by volcanic activity. It was claimed that after each volcanic eruption, the volcanic-ash layer slowly weathered into suitable topsoil and hundreds of years passed as subsequent forests grew to maturity. This pattern supposedly happened 27 times spanning at least 30,000 years. This interpretation seemed to present a problem to biblical accuracy, which indicates there has been less than 10,000 years of Earth history.

However, this interpretation ignores several important observations. The roots of the tree stumps are broken off with only the root balls left. The stump size, tree ring pattern, and number of tree rings throughout all 27 layers are remarkably similar. What the evidence really supports is the rapid burial of a single massive forest by a flood of worldwide proportions. Trees are buried at different levels because they sank into the sediment at different times. Apparently the majority opinion has moved toward this better interpretation because the “multiple-forest” interpretive sign has been removed. Unfortunately, the reality of a worldwide Flood is still not mentioned. It is because the Bible can be trusted when it speaks on physical matters (such as the reality of a worldwide Flood) that we can trust what the Bible has to say about spiritual matters (morality and salvation).

Evidence From GENETICS

The belief that mutations could slowly change one type of animal into a completely different type of animal is analogous to believing that you could change a black-and-white television into a color television by randomly changing parts. The random addition of parts will definitely produce change; but they will never produce an improved television, a color television, or a television that is slowly being transformed into some other useful device. Even if the correct color television parts were randomly placed into the television, the complexity required to change the television into some other useful device would not allow it to happen. It would become a nonfunctioning piece of junk long before it could have evolved into a more complex piece of machinery. Mutations cause a loss of information and do not explain where the information present within every living organism originated. This is a fact of science, regardless of how many parts are added without an overall plan.

Evolution relies on billions of years to explain the transformation of life. But even if zillions of parts are randomly added to trillions of televisions for billions of years, not a single improved television will result. In the same way, mutations will produce changes, but they will never enable one type of creature to turn into a completely different type. For that to happen, useful information would have to be added to the DNA of the creature. This simply does not happen as a result of random mutations.

Evidence From GENETICS

One of the most common questions asked of biologists is the origin of races. This question produces confusion concerning the origin of mankind. If humans evolved from apes, should not some humans be closer to their apelike ancestors than others? If so, why not consider them “less human”? This logical conclusion of evolutionary thinking led directly to historical atrocities such as Hitler’s elimination of the Jews and the genocide of Australian aborigines. Historical statements such as the following 2/24/1924 New York Tribune description of aborigines reveal the evolutionary-driven prejudice of the day:

“They appear to be a race totally incapable of civilization...these people are from a lower order of the human race.”

In contrast, the Bible states that all people have equal dignity, because all mankind descended from a single pair of humans. Gregor Mendel, a Christian monk and the father of modern genetics, proved that the genetic variability of different characteristics (such as skin color and body shape) was present in the very first human created. Skin color, eye color, etc., are not indications of our evolutionary past but are inherited characteristics from our parents. The only reason “white” people have “white” babies is that generations of light-skinned people married each other and the genes producing more melanin (dark skin pigments) became recessive or lost. The Bible stated that ALL people are of one blood long before science proved it.

THE FOSSIL RECORD

For over 200 years paleontologists and geologists have been digging in the hills, valleys, and plains of the earth. During this time, they have uncovered and cataloged over a billion fossils. Thousands of fascinating plant and animal fossils from extinct organisms have been found. Fossils, like living organisms, are found fully formed and distinctly different in structure. Evolutionists claim to have found animal bones having features intermediate between similar creatures, proving that evolution has occurred (e.g., small horses to big horses). Yet there are no examples in the fossil record of one animal slowly changing into a different kind of animal. Diagrams have been made which show variations within the same type of animal in an effort to organize them into a supposed evolutionary order. Textbooks promote this type of evidence because no transitional evidence showing one animal slowly changing into another has been found.

It is astounding that over a billion fossils have been found, yet there is no undisputed transitional form between very different types of animals or even animal features (such as a reptile's scale turning into a bird's feather). How can we say that evolution—the idea that man is the result of slow changes over time from earlier creatures—is a reasonable theory in light of this lack of evidence?

GREAT SCIENTISTS

It is false to say that you cannot be a true scientist if you believe in creation. The very founders of the scientific method and the scientists who developed some of the most important foundational principles of modern science were primarily creationists. Creationists find themselves in the company of great men of science such as Robert Boyle, George Washington Carver, Michael Faraday, John Ambrose Fleming, James Joule, Lord Kelvin, Carolus Linnaeus, Matthew Maury, Joseph Clerk Maxwell, Gregor Mendel, Samuel F.B. Morse, Isaac Newton, Louis Pasteur, William Ramsay, and Leonardo da Vinci. Many scientists (such as Carolus Linnaeus, George Washington Carver, and Matthew Maury) claim to have received their inspirational ideas directly from the Bible. There are also many creation scientists today who are top in their fields. Their belief in creation and a young earth has not proven to be a hindrance, but actually an asset to their scientific endeavors.

The discoveries of these great men of science are a testament to their belief in the Creator of a designed universe. Their confidence to pursue scientific discoveries was and continues to be a natural outcome of their belief that discovering how the world works is possible because the universe is the product of an intelligent and all-powerful Designer of order.

COMPARING RELIGIONS

Christianity is unique over all other religions because it is based on historical facts. Other religions are primarily centered on the ethical and religious opinions of their founders. Christianity is based on the character of Jesus Christ and what He said and did. Jesus repeatedly claimed to be the Creator God and acknowledged the accuracy of every part of Old Testament Scripture. Christianity's truth and validity rely on real events of the past such as: the Fall as a real event which explains why we need a savior and are incapable of saving ourselves; Noah's Flood as the best explanation the geology of the world around us; the specific predictions of future events, before they happened, such as the birth and crucifixion of Christ. The historical truth of these events can be objectively investigated from not only one source, but from multiple sources across time.

Christianity is the only religion which offers the possibility of physically investigating its factual nature, because it makes specific claims about the world around us. It also addresses where we came from. If one of these claims is false, then other biblical claims are also suspect. But if these claims are scientifically valid, there is every reason to believe all of the Bible's claims (such as what happens after death or what God requires of us in order to spend eternity in His presence).

BOTANY

The Venus fly trap is a wonder of God's engineering. It has an ingenious method, quite different from other plants, for getting food. This meat-eating plant usually lives in mineral-poor soils. Therefore, it catches its food in order to provide the needed nutrients for survival. When an insect touches the tiny trigger hairs inside the trap, an electric signal is sent to cells on the outside of the trap. This impulse almost instantly causes the outer cells to secrete an acid which breaks down the cell wall. This, in turn, causes cells to expand, closing the trap at high speed. The more the insect fights, the more tightly the trap closes. Six to twelve days later, after the insect is digested, the plant receives a chemical signal and the trap opens to await its next meal.

Why do animals, and even plants, have to fight each other for their very survival? Is this really the creation that God described as "very good"? Actually, it is not. All of creation exhibits a fallen, aggressive nature due to the actions of Adam and Eve in the original garden paradise. It is unknown whether the complex mechanisms of survival demonstrated by the Venus fly trap were present but dormant before the Fall, or were designed within the plant for survival after the Fall. Either way, the Venus fly trap is a marvel of purposeful design which gives testimony to the genius behind its creation.

ANATOMY

Our blood vessels are an incredible pipeline system which networks our entire body. These vessels come in three basic types: arteries, veins, and capillaries. Capillaries are microscopic vessels that link the smallest arteries to the veins. They are the most abundant type of blood vessels. About 40 capillaries laid end to end measure only one inch. Yet they are so numerous that if all of the capillaries in our body were laid end to end they would stretch around the equator two times!

Blood is pumped into the capillaries with enough force to drive the plasma through the porous walls of these tiny vessels, thus nourishing surrounding cells. However, the pressure is not so great that the red and white blood cells are lost or the capillaries burst. There must be an absolutely perfect balance of pressure between the blood flowing within the vessel, the blood being forced through the vessel walls, and the blood in and around the body's cells. Without question, the design of our blood vessels and the perfect balance of pressure required to maintain life is testimony to our Designer.

Evidence From GEOLOGY

The evolutionary model assumes that coal formed gradually over long time periods from decaying plants. Coal deposits are believed to be the compacted accumulation of generations of swamp plants which were covered by other sediments over millions of years. In reality, the nature of coal deposits contradict this slow and gradual model. For example:

1. Well-preserved remains of leaves and insects are frequently found in coal. This requires that the vegetation was buried very quickly (such as would have happened during a massive flood) in order to have prevented the remains from rotting.
2. Coal deposits covering thousands of square miles are found hundreds of feet thick. This testifies to a flood of worldwide extent. The “swamp model” of coal formation does not explain the massive extent of coal reserves.
3. Coal seams are found in repeated overlying layers, often separated by sterile rock types with no sign of soil. This indicates burial under water (with sediment washing in between layers), not slow accumulation from swamps.

Coal is a buried testimony to both the Worldwide Flood and the incredible hatred God has of sin.

THE FOSSIL RECORD

What does the fossil record show concerning the appearance of all basic animal body types? The following quotes are representative of what has been found after extensive searching by an army of evolutionary paleontologists over the last 150 years. These statements by evolutionary scientists are both contextual and relevant to what the fossil record actually reveals:

“ All paleontologists know that the fossil record contains precious little in the way of intermediate forms; transitions between major groups are characteristically abrupt.”

“ Despite the bright promise that paleontology provides of ‘seeing’ evolution, it has presented some nasty difficulties for evolutionists, the most notorious of which is the presence of ‘gaps’ in the fossil record.”

“ No real evolutionist, whether gradualist or punctuationalist, uses the fossil record as evidence in favor of the theory of evolution as opposed to special creation....”

“ The known fossil record fails to document a single example of phyletic evolution accomplishing a major morphologic transition.”

Evolutionists have lined up some fossils which seem to fill small gaps between closely related creatures. However, accepting small transitions as evidence in support of the grand evolution scenario is like believing a single stepping stone proves that a bridge once spanned the Mississippi River in the same location.

Evolution requires transitional forms between the most basic animal groups—yet none exist. Creation asserts that there never were transitions between basic kinds of life. This is exactly what the fossil record shows. What better evidence for creation could there be?

Evidence From
CREATION FOUNDATION

What kind of God would make creatures whose only function seems to be devouring and feeding upon other creatures? Sir Dave Attenborough, who has produced the acclaimed Life on Earth and Living Planet series for BBC, states it this way:

“When creationists talk about God creating every [type of animal] in a separate act, they always instance hummingbirds... and beautiful things. But I tend to think instead of a parasitic worm that is boring through the eye of a boy sitting on the bank of a river in West Africa, and [I ask them], ‘Are you telling me that the God you believe in, who you also say is an all-merciful God, who cares for each one of us individually—are you saying that God created this worm that can live in no other way than in an innocent child’s eyeball? Because that doesn’t seem to me to coincide with a God who’s full of mercy.’”

Evolutionists do not believe that all of creation has developed a fallen nature. Creatures originally created to live in harmony have become deadly competitors. Mankind chose to reject God and died spiritually. It is only by being “born again” that this spiritual union with God can be restored. God cursed creation as an act of mercy. It would have been intolerable for fallen mankind to exist in the midst of perfection. Furthermore, God has given us the ability to prevent and cure many diseases (when we choose to spend our time and resources to do so). At times He even provides supernatural healing. Most importantly, God has provided a pathway to spend eternity in paradise after our short time here on Earth. God became a human in order to take the penalty which we deserve. What more could He have done?

Aircraft designers are still trying to copy this engineering marvel.

Besides the ability to climb to 10,000 feet within minutes, the parent eagle also assists its young in flight. As it flies alongside the eaglet, whirlpools of air formed by its primary feathers provide the eaglet with additional lift.

In speaking of His protective care over the nation of Israel, God states, "...I bare you on eagles' wings...." (Exodus 19:4 KJV). The Hebrew word for "bare" is nacah, and its primary root means "to lift." This is exactly what the parent eagle does to help its young in flight.

BIBLICAL UNIQUENESS

Any study of man's history will prove that the Bible had (and still has) a unique and profound influence. The Bible gives us a proper perspective on all vital human issues, including marriage, raising children, finances, government, the judicial system, equal rights, aging, poverty, health, work, ecology, education, entertainment, etc. The basis for the world's laws and ethics all originate in God's Word. Even the seven-day week, which was given at creation, has become the worldwide standard pattern. No other source for this cycle has ever been offered.

The Bible tells us that God is good and there is absolutely no darkness in Him (Mark 10:18, 1 John 1:5). Throughout history whenever Christianity has been blamed for atrocities, one always finds major deviations from God's Word. Conversely, wherever the Bible is believed and followed, people live in harmony. GEOLOGY

If, as evolutionists say, the earth formed as a hot molten mass, it should have cooled to its present temperature in far less than 4.5 billion years. Evolutionists believe that radioactive decay accounts for the still-elevated temperature of the earth's core. Yet estimates of the amount of heat created by radioactive decay cannot account for the heat present in the earth's core—unless the earth is much younger than assumed. The high temperature at the core of the earth testifies to a young earth. Lord Kelvin used this argument to show that evolutionary geologists of his day were wrong about the age of the earth and his conclusions are still accurate today. In spite of this type of evidence, evolutionists continue to claim that the earth is about 4.5 billion years old.

The vast majority of scientific dating methods indicate that the earth is quite young. Since the earth was created as a fully formed and functional planet, its core temperature would have been very high—similar to today—from the very beginning. The fact that the core of the earth is still quite hot confirms what Christians who take the Word of God seriously have believed all along—both the earth and the entire universe were formed quite recently.

One type of female angler fish grows to approximately three and one half feet, and its mouth takes up much of its size. Just above its top lip the angler fish has been designed with a six-inch-long fishing pole. This pole has a little orange light on the end of it. The angler fish lives a mile beneath the ocean where it is dark. It attracts other fish with its light. When creatures move in to strike at the light, the angler fish grabs them with its long, sharp teeth. When not in use, its fishing rod fits into a groove on the top of the angler fish's head.

Yet the strangest part of the angler fish's life is its mating practices. While the female is over three feet long, the male angler fish is only one-half an inch long. He has no fishing pole or light. Mating starts when the tiny male swims up to the female and sinks his teeth into her side. He never lets go the rest of his life. In fact, soon his skin and circulatory system actually join the female's. All that is left of the male is a small pouch on the female's side containing the male's reproductive organs, which continue to fertilize the female's eggs.

Apparently, these strange reproductive and predatory habits were given to the angler fish after the Fall. What is the mathematical probability that any of these unique characteristics could have developed by random step-by-step changes? How wonderful is God's creativity!
